Ethics Complaint Procedure

How to report a concern and what happens next. | 2024

Who can complain

Anyone, whether an IAARSO member or not, may report conduct they believe breaches the Code of Ethics.

How to complain

Submit the concern in writing using the online form on the Code of Ethics page, or by email to a Board member, the Executive Director or the IAARSO office. Include dates, places and any documents.

What happens next

1. The Constitution & Ethics Chairperson acknowledges receipt within seven days.
2. The member concerned is notified and may respond in writing.
3. The Committee may interview witnesses and request records.
4. The Board decides the outcome: no action, warning, suspension, or permanent revocation of membership and certification.
